

How to establish strong stakeholder messaging

Take some time to answer the following questions about every stakeholder group. By looking through the lens of your goals and objectives, you will be able to understand how to establish and position your messaging.

What do they think and feel?

What do they say and do?

What do they hear?

What do they see?

What causes them pain?

What do they have to gain?